On a bright spring morning some air faeries joyously created a gentle spring breeze. This breeze blew a small cauldron shaped maple leaf into the Silver Path stream, which originates from atop Mount Myst Wind. At some point in the leaf's journey, a miniature icicle from a giant oak tree fell into it. Slowly this icicle was melted by the Spring Sun and imbued with the energy of creation. This cauldron of creative energy eventually was sent over a waterfall & plunged down to the bottom of the Pool of Reflection where a silvery bubble was formed and when it broke the surface, a tiny winged faery was born.

Skye can fly, breathe under water & shapeshift into many Water/Air forms. She doesn't like fighting and like many faeries, she doesn't like to hurt anything even if it's trying to hurt her. She tells the truth & keeps her promises, but not necessarily in the way you expect. She can enchant Humans & Elves. Being mostly water, if Skye gets overly emotional, she can infect others with that emotion. She is a healer (primarily emotional, but can do some physical) and can purge toxins from the bloodstream. She loves to dance & sing.

While Skye's primary magic is of the elements Water & Air, she has picked up bits of other kinds of magic over her lifetime, but Skye prefers her own innate magic to other forms.

Skye is Ambassador to Queen Laurel Angelica of Ravenhilt and performs in this capacity on her many travels with Cygnus.

Cygnus and Skye came to love each other and were wed in a simple ceremony on a beach 1 1/2 years after they met.
